

KID SHARKEY SPOSATO
WHITE PLAINS, NY 10603

August 16, 2004

Kid Sharkey, the boxing legend and trainer of champions, and World War II Marine Disabled Veteran, is in Senator John Kerry's corner.

"Sensitive statement" John Kerry made will fit into the interview that Dan Rather had with Saddam. Saddam wanted to debate with President Bush; but all Bush had on his mind was an undeserved war. The two could have debated on oil products. They could have made some oil deals. Instead the President sent our American boys to be killed and to kill innocent people.

When he had the chance to serve our country and go to war, Bush joined the National Guard to avoid going to the front line. Cheney had other prerogatives and he was also a draft dodger.

All of these television commentators, Hannity, Holmes, Scarborough and Reilly are constantly "bashing" John Kerry who had the guts to go to the front lines. These commentators, along with former Mayor Guigliano, are all arm-chair strategists and windbags! If they so strongly back the war why don't they volunteer their time and efforts to go to Iraq and help the troops.

If there was a draft for all people in all walks of life there would be no wars. It is always the little "Mr. Nobodys" that fight the war and none of them are millionaires. When most of the boys return from the war, not only are they unable to find jobs but must fight for their benefits because Congress never keeps their promises. If you don't believe this, just ask me. It took me fifty years of fighting the government to finally get the benefits I deserved. And, I am now eighty-seven years old!
