

President Bush is the one who went before the UN and stated that Saddam had the weapons of mass destruction and could use them against us within a fifteen-minute time frame. After one year we find that the WMD don't exist.

He also stated that Saddam was a mass murderer. Yet Bush declared war under false pretenses that killed innocent people and children. American soldiers were killed and wounded but when Bush had the chance to go to the front lines, he hid behind the National Guard and most of the time never showed up for duty. At that time his father was a Senator and that is why he got off so easy.

Bush has no feelings for the wounded soldiers or the soldiers that were killed. His only concern is to parade around the country raising funds to be re-elected.

In my opinion, he is the worst president to serve us in the history of our country.
